

30th September 2022

Dear Parents and Guardians,

We are all so proud of the fantastic improvement in our attendance rates at school! This is wonderful. It means that children access essential learning in their classes. Well done everyone!

We have two new projects which we will be starting next week.

We will be introducing a whole school handwriting programme and whole school reading where every child will receive a reading book to read each day. We will be providing rewards for children who manage to read five times a week and looking forward to seeing the children's reading ability flourish as a result.

We will keep you posted with all the successes of all our new endeavours.

Wishing you a lovely weekend – I hope that it's drier than this afternoon! 😊

Kind regards,
Mrs. McDowell
Headteacher
